

UNODA-OSCE Scholarship for Peace and Security 2020, call for application

UNODA, in collaboration with the Organisation for Security and Co-operation in Europe (OSCE), is launching its third round of the training on “Conflict Prevention and Resolution through Arms Control, Disarmament and Non-Proliferation in the OSCE Area”. 100 scholarships are available through the Scholarship for Peace and Security for young professionals, particularly women, from OSCE participating States and Partners for Co-operation. 100 scholarships are awarded on a competitive basis, application is open until Sunday, 9 February 2020, 23:59 (CET).

The training course consists of two components: an 8-weeks online course starting on 30 March 2020, and an in-person training from 4 to 8 May 2020, which will be held in Vienna, Austria. Participation in the in-person training is reserved for up to 50 women.

Beyond lectures on disarmament, non-proliferation, arms control, conflict prevention and resolution, the in-person training programme includes workshops, case studies, mentoring sessions and visits to key international organisations based in Vienna. Participants will have the opportunity to interact with experts in the field of disarmament and non-proliferation and build their professional network.

Through the UNODA-OSCE Scholarship for Peace and Security 170 participants from more than 70 countries have been trained since 2018. The participants have said, “This training course has been an absolutely fantastic training opportunity to learn from the experts from the field.”
